We hereby request a donation of the available books written and illustrated by the great cowboy, author and artist Will James. These books will go into our library to be available for all of our readers to enjoy.

We will do our best to have our local newspaper come in and take a photo of the Will James books along with some of our patrons. We will send you a copy of the article once it has been published. In any event, we will send you a digital copy of a photo of the Will James books accompanied by some of our patrons.

We understand that you will try to publish a copy of the photo in your magazine, Cowboys North & South, and that you will send us a copy once it has been published.
